Summary

I am a Junior QA Tester, and I am always eager to learn new things and improve myself. I chose testing as my new career direction because I believe it is useful for society. I am punctual, responsible, and diligent, and these qualities have helped me in every business I have pursued. I am looking for a new team where I can apply my skills, grow with my new company, and contribute towards something meaningful. One of my dreams is to create an environmental project that will help humanity keep our planet clean.
